The King's English: Eighteenth-Century Language

Two points about eighteenth-century English and English-American society are important to keep in mind when considering any type of public behavior in those societies. First of all, they were stratified societies and the ways in which people interacted with one another reflected their relative social positions. Not only how something was said, but when it was said, were reflective of the social positions of the speakers. For example, it was not proper for someone of a lower social rank to offer a greeting to a person of higher rank without having been first addressed by that person. Nor was it proper for the social inferior to end the conversation. Secondly, there was some fluidity between the the levels of society. Money was not enough to lift a person to a higher level, however. Deportment was also important. Deportment included dress, bodily carriage, and using the polite forms of conversation. During the course of the eighteenth century, the middling sort were increasingly able to afford the trappings of gentility, and they were eager to acquire the accomplishments as well. By the late eighteenth century, therefore, many had acquired the rudiments of polite conversation.

FORMS OF ADDRESS

Sir , alone, was a common form of address used by all classes in conversation with gentlemen, or with men of the middle classes. Gentry wives called their husbands Sir , and the children called their fathers Sir . It is entirely appropriate to call adult male visitors Sir . Some examples include:

How does your lady, Sir?

Sir, if you please, may I speak with you a moment?

Madam , alone, was used to address gentry women, married or unmarried, young and old. Whether or not the middling sort were using it is not clear. Gentry children called their mothers Madam . It is appropriate to call adult female visitors Madam :

Madam, I am quite amazed.
Madam, I do greatly admire your gown.

Mr. , Mrs. , and Miss were used, as appropriate, in conjunction with the surname when addressing gentry or prosperous middle-class persons. For example, Mr. Burwell , Mrs. Page , Miss Blair . Husbands and wives often addressed one another in public as Mr. or Mrs. , plus the surname.

Some colonial officials were addressed using Mr. plus the title of the office held by that person.

Mr. Speaker [Speaker of the House of Burgesses]
Mr. President [President of the Council]
Mr. Attorney [Attorney General]

People in the eighteenth century also addressed each another according to their relationship to one another, including:

|---|---|
| Husband | Wife |
| Father | Mother |
| Grandfather | Grandmother |
| Brother | Sister |
| Son | Daughter |
| Aunt | Uncle |
| Niece | Nephew |
| Cousin | Friend |
| Child | Neighbor |

Used in context, people said:

To be sure, Husband, you know these matters better than I.

I am glad to see you, Cousin.

Addressing a visitor as Friend was acceptable.

Step-relations and in-laws often addressed one another as if they were blood kin. Thus, step-brothers could address one another as Brother , as could brothers-in-law. The same applies to Father , Mother , Daughter , Son , and Sister . Sons-in-law and daughters-in-law sometimes addressed their spouse-s parent(s) as Mother or Father , plus the parent's surname. For example: Mother Nelson , Father Page .

Young children also addressed their parents as Papa and Mama . Daughters, at least, continued to address their fathers as Daddy and Papa , even after marriage. Father seems to have been the form used by older boys and men. At least one young Virginia boy called his grandfather Grandpapa .

GREETINGS AND FAREWELLS

Good morning , good day , good evening , and other similar greetings were used widely by polite society in the eighteenth century. A good day to you, Sir or A good morning to you, Robin (or any nickname) were used informally by the gentry and were more likely than the abbreviated forms above to be used by the middling sort and lower in addressing the gentry as well as each other.

How do you do? was a common greeting in genteel society during the eighteenth century. It survives in the now-casual "How 'ya doin'?" How do you do? was often followed by either an inquiry after the other person's family, or by an expression of pleasure at seeing the other person. Sometimes an inquiry after the family of the person addressed was used alone as a greeting:

How do you do, Mr. Harrison? I'm right heartily glad to see you.

How does your father, old fellow? [gentleman to gentleman]

How do you do? How does all at home?

Your servant , or variations such as Your humble servant and Your most obedient servant , were also polite greetings among the gentry and middling sorts. This greeting originated as a form of gracious condescension. It would have been redundant, and therefore impertinent, for a white person of low status, a servant, or a slave to address his superior in this fashion. A member of the gentry and a prosperous middle-class person, however, might each have used this expression to address the other:

Sir, I am your most obedient servant. I am heartily glad to see you.

[First gentleman]: Sir, your humble servant. I'm very glad to see you.

[Second gentleman]: Sir, I am yours. How does your family?

In a conversation between social equals or near equals, politeness required the second party to affirm that he/she was the servant of the first party.

All of the above greetings were commonly used by gentlemen. Ladies used How do you do? and inquiries about family, particularly female members of the other person's family. Ladies appear to have been more likely to have used I am glad to see you , rather than right heartily glad or heartily glad . They also appear to have used the Your servant type of greeting with less frequency than did gentlemen. Of course, Good day was an acceptable greeting for both ladies and gentlemen.

The most common form of genteel farewell seems to have been of the your servant variety and appears to have been used by the middling sorts and above. Again, the second party returned the civility:

[1st party]: ... and so, your servant, Sir.

[2nd party]: Sir, I am yours.

or

Your servant, Sir.

or

Yours, Sir.

Your servant could be expanded to Your humble servant , Your obedient servant , or (if you wanted to be really subservient) Your most obedient and humble servant .

A signal for departure used mainly by gentlemen with their social equals was By your leave , sometimes varied to With your permission :

[1st Gentleman]: ... by your leave, Sir.

[2nd Gentleman]: Your servant, Sir.

The gentry and higher social ranks also employed French phrases at times in conversation, and Adieu was used as a sort of breezy farewell among friends or family.

Acceptable to all genders and stations were variations on Good day :

[1st party]: I wish you a good evening, Sir/Madam.

or (less formal)

Good evening to you, Sir/Madam/Friend . or (informal)

Good night to you, Robin.

[2nd party]: The like to you, Sir/Madam/ Friend.

or (still again!) Your servant.

For those of you who find the phrase irritating, it may be a comfort to know that "Have a nice day" did not originate in the 1970s; it has its roots in the civil Good day to you of earlier centuries.

Dorchester & Fordington Glossary

Index of Terms used in 17th & 18th Century Wills, Inventories and other Documents With links to pictures for some items

©Michael Russell OPC for Fordington Jan 2009 - Last updated December 2017

(537 terms)

Spelling: Until the mid eighteenth century, spelling was not considered a matter of great importance. In manuscripts, words are often spelt in various ways, even in the same document. It was not until the appearance of the dictionary by Nathan Bailey in 1730 and Samuel Johnson in 1755 that there was any attempt at standardisation. There was also some regular conventions in use such as:-

♦"y" is often used instead of "i" as in Wynsor/Winsor - Bryne/Brine - Collyns/Collins - yssue/issue - dyed/died

♦"z" is often used instead of "s" as in Cozens/Cosens - Zeager/Seager - Tomazine/Tomasine

♦"e" is often added to the end of names and some letters repeated as in Bisshoppe for Bishop or Bartlette for Bartlet or Ffordington for Fordington

♦"h" may have been omitted as in Tomas/Thomas or cristened/christened and particularly "is" for "his" in later years ·

With such wide variation in spelling the context in which the word is used is always important in carrying out transcription.

Phonetic dialect: Many words were written as they sounded and were therefore heavily influenced by local dialect and the individuals level of education and therefore varied widely. It needs to be remembered that most people could not read and many of these documents were in any case completed by clergy who moved regularly around the country and may not be familiar with the dialect. A sudden change in spelling of a family name for example is often associated with a change in Rector or churchwarden. The list below is exclusively compiled from Dorchester & Fordington Wills, Inventories and other documents associated with the Parish and were therefore in common use at the time.

Transcription : is very difficult as you are often dealing with faded, out of focus or damaged documents written in Court or Secretary hand where the formation of letters was significantly different from that used today. Examples of Secretary hand - but there are probably many others available on the web. An added complication is that probate is usually written in Latin. If you get through all that you often end up with a word that you have never heard of which then takes research. In the course of doing many old documents from Dorchester I have built up a glossary which I have placed on line mainly for my own benefit but I hope that it may also help those trying to decipher old documents originating in Dorset. Some words have also been added to the glossary because they simply did not mean the same thing in 17th century.

Abbreviation: Was used extensively in Wills and Inventories often indicated by a line above the omitted letters which I can't reproduce for the web. So in text you will see pfect for 'perfect' or pformed for 'performed'. 'pish' was another well used abbreviation for 'parish'. Supertext is also used as in $w^{th}$ for 'with' but it can also mean 'which' depending on context. Some scibes also abbreviated Christian names extensively; $W^{m}$ is still used today for 'William' and most are self explanitary like Eliz; Rich; Robt etc. Less common were 'Gorg' for George and 'Jams' for James. I have generally tried to spell them out in full in brackets not because I don't think the person will understand most abbreviations but to increase the hit rate when searching documents. There were many recognised abbreviations such as those given in these links:- Pages from an 18th century book showing commonly used Contractions of that period And an abbreviation listing for 17th century records available on the web.

Pictures: I have started adding links to pictures to better explain some items given in inventories on this site. Please bear in mind that most of these have survived because they came from the houses of landed gentry or well off merchants. Every day items in tenements and farm houses

| boot catcher | a person employed at an Inn or Tavern to remove and clean a persons boots. e.g. William BULLEN is described as a 'boot catcher' at the Antelope Inn in South street Dorchester on 18th Dec 1842 on the baptism of his son William at HT church - and Richard DYKE is described as a 'boots' at the Kings Arms in Dorchester on 23rd March 1853 on the baptism of his son Richard at All Saints. |
| bord (or bord cloth) | board - a term used to describe a table as it was a loose board which was supported by trestles. a board cloth was a tablecloth |
| borler | person who made cheap coarse clothing |
| box | 16th Century Box Picture Link |
| boucher | butcher |
| bra (or braas or brase or brasse) | brass |
| brightsmith | metal worker - seems to have been used for polished metalwork on ships or other vehicles rather than blacksmith which was more concerned with wrought iron or basic blacksmith skills such as horse shoes etc |
| bristle grazier | The only place that I have come across this phrase is as an occupation given on a baptism record for All Saints on 22nd July 1832 for a Mr Elias COLE who was described as a 'bristle grazier'. The 1775 dictionary defines 'bristle' as one of the stiff hairs that stand up on the back of swine and a research document that I came across suggests that a bristle grazier was a person who cut and sorted hair into different grades and colours for manufacture presumable for things like shaving brushes. Whether this was Mr Coles occupation remains to be seen as I could not locate him elsewhere apart from his marriage at Radipole where no occupation is given. |
| brother | brother - commonly used in Dorchester Wills to mean a 'brother-in-law' Some wills try to make it clearer by referring to a real brother as 'my own brother' |

| bruing leade | leaden cooling vessel used in brewing |
| buh | abbreviation for bushel; measure of capacity 8 gallons for corn fruit malt etc |
| Bull Stake | The 'Bull Stake' is another name for 'North Square' in the Parish of St Peters in Dorchester. It is mentioned in various wills for example that of Andrew Lake who was buried at Dorchester St Peters 9th Aug 1745 but not proved by his widow Ann until 8th June 1767. It is shown on RL Kingstons Map of Dorchester dated 1771 see Street 'F'. Also the will of William Foot 1831. There is also a reference to it in John Hutchins "The History and Antiquities of the County of Dorset" page 399 under Charitable gifts to the hospital. |
| burgage | A house or other property in a town, rented by a free burgess under burgess tenure |
| Burgess | originates from Anglo Norman French 'burgeis' :- an inhabitant of a town or borough with full rights of citizenship. In Dorchester 6 Aldermen & 6 other Burgesses were appointed under the charter published by Charles I on 6 Oct 1629 who with the Mayor and two Bailiffs were to be termed 'Capital Burgesses'. |
| buryell | burial |
| bushell | bushel - a vessel used as a measure, containing 4 pecks or 8 gallons. often used to measure wheat, etc |
| butterchurn | butter making vat in which milk or cream is agitated Link to background to butter making. In Dorchester they seem to refer to the barrel type as a butterchurn and the plunger type as a butterpump. |
| butterpump | another word for butterchurn |
| buttery | storeroom for liquor and food and also for relevant equipment |
| B.V.M. | B.V.M. Is usually used in the context of Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary also known as Lady's |

Southern and Colonial Genealogies

Colonial Legal Terminology

The following terms are often found in colonial court records, deeds, wills, grants, and other legal documents. Most terms have specific meaning in the English common law of the time. I have also included some terms that might, in context, offer genealogically valuable clues.

Abate / Abatement

Abate and abatement have several uses. In a lawsuit, an abatement is a court order to terminate the suit, either because the plaintiff dropped the suit, or one of the parties died, or the defendant moved out of the court's jurisdiction. When applied to a bequest or a judgment, it normally means that assets were insufficient to cover the amount, and the amount due was reduced. In general, it means that something was terminated or lessened.

Administrator or Administratrix

A court-appointed manager of the estate of a person who either did not leave a will or whose will failed to name an executor (or whose executors declined to act). The administrator had the same powers regarding property that the deceased would have had if alive. The administrator or administratrix had powers and duties similar to executors (with a few specific restrictions) regarding converting the estate into a form that could be distributed to the heirs. Courts normally appointed the closest relative who was both able and willing to serve. For insolvents or those with no nearby relatives, the geatest creditor was often appointed to fill the role.

Administrator with the will annexed

This terminology was used when a will existed but failed to name an executor, or when the executor died, resigned, or refused to serve. Courts appointed an administrator to carry out the provisions of the will as the executor would have done if one existed. It is sometimes rendered in Latin as cum testamento annexo.

Administrator de bonis non

This terminology was used to identify an administration of a partial estate, as when an executor or administrator was replaced before distributing all the estate's assets. The Latin means, more or less, "of items not administered". Thus the term is typically applied to a second administrator of a partially distributed estate. Note that he or she might also be an administrator cum testamento annexo.

Ad litem

Literally "for the case" — limited to a single instance. Used when a person was appointed to perform some task, usually involving a minor, only for the specific case at hand.

Ad quod damnum

Literally "according to harm" — referring to the notion that compensation should be commensurate with damages. Often found in court records referring to a type of writ ordering an assessment of damages that might result from some action. For example, to assess damage to a landowner whose property was taken or used for some public purpose

|---|---|
| | (a road) or private purpose (a mill dam that floods a neighbor's land). Another use, after 1734 in Virginia, was as a means of docking an entail (that is, to convert a fee tail interest into a fee simple one.) |
| Alias Capias | See Capias. Generally, an alias writ is the second one, issued because the first was not executed for some reason. |
| Alien / Alienate | To transfer property (in addition to the obvious second meaning). Versions seen in deeds include alienate, alienation, alienee, etc. |
| Appurtenance | Literally, something attached or subservient to a more important thing. In deeds for land, it refers to things attached to the land (rights of way, agreements that transfer with land, orchards, structures, etc.) |
| Assign | As a noun, this is a person who acts on behalf of someone else. As a verb, the act of transferring an interest in something to another person. For example, a grant applied for but not yet issued might be assigned to another person. |
| Bargain & Sale | A form of deed. See separate paper on deeds. |
| Bastard | A child born out of wedlock, or to a couple who were not married in a way recognized by the civil authorities. At the request of the mother or the authorities, an identified father could be compelled to provide for the child's support. A bastard child, even if acknowledged, could not inherit from the father. See separate papers on inheritance and succession for more information. |
| Bequest | A transfer of personal property, usually by will. "Bequest" was used for personal property and "devise" for real property. (Legacy has the same meaning as bequest.) |
| Bond | A promise to do something (or not to do something) secured by an obligation to pay damages if the promise is broken. |
| Brother (Sister) | These terms were often used for stepbrothers, half brothers, or even for brothers-in-law. It does not necessarily refer to a brother or sister in the modern sense. |
| Capias | An order to the sheriff to arrest or take into custody a person to assure their appearance in court. If the order was not executed, a second order was called an alias capias. If a third order was necessary, it was called a pluries capias. |
| Caveat | A notice not to do something until the person caveating has been heard. It is often seen in the case of land claims, where a caveator might object to a claim that infringes upon his own claim. It is also seen in the case of wills, as when a widow might caveat a will to prevent probate until her objection is heard. |
| Chain | A surveying device for measuring distances, usually made up of 100 links. The typical chain used during colonial times was 66 feet long, or four times the length of a pole. A furlong was 10 chains and a mile was 80 chains. A square mile was 80 chains by 80 chains. |

Relationships May Change Over Time

Relationship terms may change greatly over the generations. It is better to verify all your information than to make a false assumption that may cost you time, energy and money.

Content Details

Type: Article

Resource: GenWeekly (//www.genealogytoday.com/roots/xweb.mv?xc=Display&xo=resource&xr=25298&xz=reader&zc=1&zp=rescms)

Prepared by: Karan Pittman (/articles/writers/Karan_Pittman.html)

Short URL: http://genTOD.com/A.mv

Often relationship terms had different meanings in earlier centuries. Wills, deeds, diaries, letters and guardianship records, while providing many clues for the genealogist, may also lead a person to a wrong conclusion and many frustrating hours of searching for an ancestor that is not yours.
The most commonly misunderstood term is the word cousin. The meaning has changed over the years. In today's society, as a rule, a cousin is the son or daughter of an uncle or aunt. The word cousin also refers to a person who may be closely or distantly related through descent from a common ancestor.

In earlier times, particularly the seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries, the word cousin is used in many wills, deeds or guardianship records, may have a different meaning than in the modern sense. Cousin may refer to ANY relative who is not a brother, son, sister or daughter. A cousin may be a niece, nephew, aunt, uncle or any other close relative. The word cousin may lead to some dead end trails, if not properly investigated and documented.

Son-in-law and daughter-in-law also had different connotation in earlier centuries. Today, a son-in-law or daughter-in-law is a person married to a son or daughter. In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, a stepmother or stepfather may have referred to the child of a spouse by an earlier marriage as a son- or daughter-in-law.

Brother and sister may be difficult words to decipher in early documents, particularly in letters, diaries and institutional records. The words may actually refer to a blood brother or sister, but they may also refer to a stepbrother or stepsister, or a brother- or sister-in-law. Another frequent use of these terms refers to the relationship betweens persons of a church or a particular faith. It is best to research any people referred to as brother or sister for the actual relationship, if there is any doubt.

The terms aunt and uncle may be used to denote a blood relationship, or they may be used to imply affection and deep respect. People were often labeled aunt and uncle out of fondness. They may have been friends of the family or even relatives, perhaps a cousin!

Mother or father may actually mean mother or father in the legal sense. In earlier times, mother or father was often used to refer to the people today known as mother-in-law or father-in-law. Stepparents are often referred to as mother or father in legal documents, so it is best to prove the relationship before trying to go back another generation.

If Mrs. or Mistress is in front of a name, it is often assumed that the woman was married or widowed. This is not always the case. The term is often used as one of respect for a person's position or station in life. Instances have been found in legal documents of young women, sixteen to twenty, called Mrs. out of respect, not because of their marital status. When you are researching and find the word Mrs. on a marriage certificate, it may or may not imply widowhood.

Interestingly enough, by the early 1800's, marriage certificates did not always have the honorific in front of the bride's name. I found this out the hard way. My great-great-great grandmother Henrietta Gilly was a widow when she married my great-great-great grandfather, Jesse Fowler. This was only revealed when I found her widow's pension application for his service in the 1836 Creek Indian War. On the application, she stated that she had been a widow at the time of her marriage. I had spent over a decade researching the Gilly line, only to find that it was not mine.

The word Colonel will often be found in front of the name of a person who practiced law. Military service was often irrelevant to the title. A person was given the honorific Colonel by virtue of the profession.

Another term that can throw a person's research is the Jr. after a person's name. In today's society, Jr. implies the son, usually the first born, of a man with the same name. In earlier times, Jr. may refer to the son of a brother. Also, Jr. was often not used on the first born son. The term Jr. may not lead directly back to the father, so it is to your advantage to be wary and do your research.

The article "The OED and Your Family Tree" (http://gentod.com/genweekly.mv?id=636) may be helpful in pointing to an avenue to research these terms. The main point to remember is that when doing your research, nothing should be taken at face value. Always verify your findings and document your sources. The more verification you provide for your information, the less you will find yourself climbing the wrong tree in your research.

Early Pierces in the Rappahannock Valley, Virginia: an annotated chronology

Larry S. Pierce Version: 16-Oct-2010 all rights reserved

There are many references to Pierce/Pearce/Peirce/Pearse/Piercey in the early records of Rappahannock, Essex, Spotsylvania, Caroline, Orange and Culpeper Counties. In many cases, the participants did not leave wills or other explicit mention of family relationships. In an attempt to sort out the relationships of these early Pierces and to potentially connect them to the William Pierce (~1705-1760; Group A in the Pierce DNA Project) who married Elizabeth Rucker in what would become Orange Co., VA, these records have been compiled. Annotations to persons appearing in the records have been added (within brackets [] and in italics) containing genealogy (usually parents and spouse) and connections with each other and to Pierces, if known. It is known that families associated and intermarried generation after generation. Therefore, if two Pierces have association with each other or if they associate with the same person, group of persons or group of surnames over time, then it is a good indication that those two Pierces are related. Conversely, if their spheres of associations do not intersect, then it is a good indication that they are not related.

This is the cast of Pierces (* denotes that the person has been placed into one of the register reports included at the end of the data):

Copeland Pierce (Caroline 1774)

Francis Pierce of Essex Co. and Elizabeth & Mary (Old Rappahannock Aug 1684 - Essex Jul 1712 – 19 Sep 1723)

George Pearce (Old Rappahannock 1661/2)

Jeremiah Pierce No. 1 of Caroline Co. and Elizabeth (Spotsylvania Mar 1732/3 – Nov 1735; Caroline Mar 1732 – Aug 1782)

Jeremiah Pierce No. 2 & Lettice (Culpeper Mar 1755 – Aug 1765; went to KY 1770's)

John Pierce No. 1 and wife Hester (Walker) of Richmond Co., son of Col. Wm Pierce of Westmoreland (Richmond 1693-1698)

John Pierce No. 2 and wife Sarah (Essex Jul 1704) and their orphan son John [referred to as John, son of John and in need of 4 years of schooling, e.g. 10-14. The lack of records from 1704-1736 indicates that this orphan John probably died young or left Essex Co. so as to not leave any records, and is not the John Pierce who lived in Caroline in the 1760s & ff.]

John Pierce No. 3 (Spotsylvania Sep 1736 [summoned to testify; he could have lived in Caroline, as in 1738 when he is specified as living in Caroline]; Caroline Mar 1737/8 -Jun 1755 (estate mentioned))

John Pierce No. 4 (Caroline Feb 1765; Culpeper Apr 1772– 1796)

Joseph Pierce (Caroline Aug 1783 – Jun 1784 two suits)

Sarah Pierce, widow of John Pierce of Hanover Co. He died c.1767 (Caroline Nov 1767 – Jul 1773)

Vincent Pierce (Spotsylvania 1725-8)

Col. William Peirce of Westmoreland and Sarah Underwood (Westmoreland 1661 - 1702); his son John

[The plaintiff was the grandson of Maj. James(1651-1711) & Mary Unknown. Mary Pickett was apparently the only heir of John Boughan (1653-1697), the brother of Maj. James and Mary Moss (daughter of John Moss and Mary Boughan (a sister of Maj. James). Henry Boughan (1658-1738) was another brother of Maj. James. William Cox had married a daughter of John Moss and Mary Boughan (sister of Maj. James). All the other defendants were part of the Maj. James Boughan family. So what does this mean for Mary Pierce? We know that Mary was the recent bride of Francis (since July 1712). The only thing that makes sense of the lawsuit is that Francis Pierce married Mary, the recently widowed Mrs. Maj. James Broughan. She is the heir of Maj. James who brings Francis Pierce into the lawsuit.

*Incidently, Wm Cox and Frances (Wood) his 2nd wife had land adjacent to John Pickett and Mary (Essex Deed Book 30 (1761), p24 Feb. 20, 1765, John Pickett and Mary, his wife, of Caroline County, convey by deed of gift, to Mace Pickett, son of the said John and Mary Pickett, all that tract of land the said John and Mary Pickett hold in Southfarnham Parish, Essex County, containing 125 acres , and adjoining lands of William Cox and Henry Cox, and on Piscataway Creek. Essex Co., VA 14 Jan 1711; Recorded 11 Jul 1712: WILL OF MAJOR JAMES BOUGHN(1711-1712), as recalled by Robert Coleman by deposition:

"Robert Coleman of the parish of So Farnham in the county of Essex. Gent, age about fifty six years, deposeth and saith that on the fourteenth day of January in the year of our Lord xxx 1711 x x this Deponent was sent for by Major James Boughan late dec'd in his life time to come to him the said Boughan x x the said Boughan did then desire this Deponent to make his x x will x x x First I give and bequeath unto my loving daughter Francis Stark, the wife of John Stark x x Land x in King William County containing two hundred acres purchased by me of "William Kirby x x x and my bay Mare x x I give unto my grandson Thomas Stark the colt that now belongs to my Bay Mare. x x I give unto my loving daughter Elizabeth ffisher one gold ring of Twenty shi1lings. I give unto Sus-anna Jones one cow and calf and one gold ring of twenty shillings. I give and bequeath unto my loving son John Boughan one gold ring of twenty shillings price. I give and bequeath unto my beloved grand-son James Boughan the son of my son James Boughan all my land and plantation whereon I now live together with my water mill and all that tract of land I bought of the Holts together with my old plantation and Land and a small Island of Land and Marsh Lying before my doore." he failing in heirs then to grandson John Boughan the son of my son James Boughan and he failing in heirs to Brother Henry Boughan and he fail-ing in heirs next of blood. Balance of Estate to son James Boughan, he to be sole Exor. dated 14 January 1711 "And this Deponent further saith that after he made the will x x the said Major James Boughan did sign and seal publish and declare the said will so made by this Deponent to be his last will and Testament in the presence of Susanna Jones, and that the said Major James Boughan then did bid the said Chamberlain Atkins and this Deponent to take notice that he the said Major James Boughan was not mad nor drunk but was in his right senses x x." signed Robert Coleman.
Proved in Essex Court July 11 1712

[The plaintiff was the grandson of Maj. James(1651-1711) & Mary Unknown. Mary Pickett was apparently the only heir of John Boughan (1653-1697), the brother of Maj. James and Mary Moss (daughter of John Moss and Mary Boughan (a sister of Maj. James). Henry Boughan (1658-1738) was another brother of Maj. James. William Cox had married a daughter of John Moss and Mary Boughan (sister of Maj. James). All the other defendants were part of the Maj. James Boughan family. So what does this mean for Mary Pierce? We know that Mary was the recent bride of Francis (since July 1712). The only thing that makes sense of the lawsuit is that Francis Pierce married Mary, the recently widowed Mrs. Maj. James Broughan. She is the heir of Maj. James who brings Francis Pierce into the lawsuit.

19 Sep 1723 Essex Wills, Bonds and Inventories 1722-30: Francis Peirce receives a payment owed him from the John Meador Estate. [While this is a minor payment, and may or may not indicate a family connection, but Francis Pierce also witnessed the will, which suggests that there is indeed a family connection. There is a very oblique connection through Francis' 2nd wife, the former Mary Boughan (John's son Richard Meador married Anne Moss, whose mother Mary Boughan was the sister of the 1st husband James Boughan of Francis' 2nd wife Mary). The families Meador, Moss and Boughan probably did not keep all these connections straight except to know that they were kin, and Francis was now kin having married into the group. In addition, Mary Boughan's maiden name is not known, and it could very well have been Meador which would be a stronger kin connection. The Meador family in America is reported to descend from Ambrose Meador, who immigrated to Isle of Wight Co., VA by 1636. The Meadors then moved up both sides of the Rappahannock in Old Rappahannock Co. about the same time as the Underwoods (remember that Sarah Underwood married Col. Wm. Peirce of Westmoreland Co.)]

In Book 1654-64, page 112 is the following memorandum:

> "Note on original book. Here ending the old record book A."

Book 1654-64 shows that in the original book, pages [illegible]-67 inclusive were in bad condition and could not be [illegible] copied, though whatever names were legible were copied, and have been indexed.

PAGINATION

The marginal paging of the books has been followed and not the conventional paging at the top of the pages, this endeavoring to follow the original paging. See at exception, however, under "Records and Books" above.

In all cases the name mentioned in a page appearing in the Index is the last one prior to recorded the particular [illegible] in which the page occurs while the case itself may be on the following page or pages.

It is suggested that the searcher read the entire [illegible] ment.

PREVIOUS COPYING

Some of the books at least at Tappahannock, of which copies are at Richmond, are themselves copies of originals. See the certificate of William Beverly, Clerk, Book 1664-73, page 60, and a full certificate of the same Clerk at page 101 in this Book of 1664-73.

Notes for John Mess and Mary Bougham

1665 James Boughan was granted 150 acres on the main swamp of Piscataway Creek. Adjoining the land of Thomas Harper and Robert Clemonds. Rappahannock County (extinct). [1]

1672 James Boughan and Thomas Harper were granted 1000 acres on Piscataway pocoson nigh the head in Rappahannock County (extinct). [2]

1684 John and Henry Boughan sold to John Moss of Gloster Co, 400 acres bordering on Thomas Harper's land. [3]

1697 John Mess dated his will in December 1697 with prove date 1698. The will named land adjoining John Harper to daughter Ann Mess; land near Henry Kurby on the south side of Merry Branch to daughter Mary until wife Mary dies and then daughter Elizabeth gets land near Kurby and daughter Mary gets the land currently lived on; Mary Boughan daughter of John Boughan; Diana Richardson, daughter of Robert Richardson; brother John Boughan; son-in-law William Cox; John Taylor. Daughter Ann Mess and wife Mary were named executors. Witnessed by Henry Kearby, William Sames, and James Boughan. [4]

1698 "John's widow, Mary, died and Ann was granted administration. She was the Mary Moss who testified for Eleanor Morris at a 'witch trial'. They may have been related." [5]

1698 Inventory of the estate of John Mess was taken by Francis Browne, John Farguson, James Fullerton, and Daniel Browne. The inventory was presented by Richard Meador and Ann, his wife, executor to John Moss. [6]

1698 Daughters Mary and Elizabeth were minors. William Cox was made guardian of Mary. James Boughan was made guardian of Elizabeth. William Cox may have been a step-son to John Mess and son to William Cox who was mentioned in the last will and testament of John Cox. William Cox married Frances Wood, widow of John Wood, in 1699. [7]

1703 Richard and Ann Meador sold her portion of the estate of John Mess to William Cox. Richard was the son o John Meador and Elizabeth White. [8]

1710 John Pickett and Richard Meador, surety for Elizabeth Brumagen, administrator of Edwad Brumagen. [9]

1715 Last will and testament of Richard Meador was dated December 1715 and proved May 1716. Named wife executor. Eldest son William. Younger son Richard got "the land where William Borne now lives", after said William and his wife Hester die (Hester was the sister of Richard Meador), the said land I had from grandfather White. If Richard dies without heirs, then to my youngest daughter, Addra. Brother, John Meador. Witnessed by Erasmus Allen and Thomas Duden. Ann's administration bond was secured by John Pickett and William Pickett. [10]

On 27 May 1673, "John Baughen hath order for four Dayes Attendance to be paid by Mrs Eliz: Wood in the sute Against Mr Weldon According to Act". [Minutes of the Countil and General Court of Colonial Virginia, Ed. h. R. McIlwaine, 2nd ed., Virginia State Library, 1979, p. 341.]

On 29 March 1678 James Boughan gave to his brothers John Boughan, Henry Boughan, and Alexander Boughan his whole right title and interest of a patent granted. "To all xpian people to whom these presents shall come Know yee that I James Boughan Doe for ye Singlular love & affection I beare to my brothers John Boughan, Henry Boughan, & Alexander: Boughan I doe freely give, grant, deliver & confirme to them ye said Jno Henry & Alexander: Boughan, my whole right, title & interest of that Pattent wch was in copartnership between Thomas Harper & my ffather lately Decd, bearing Date, ye eighth Day of Octob: 1672 to be equally Devided between my aforesaid brothers, To have & to hold ye said Lands wth all ye rights & priviledges thereunto belonging according to ye true intent & meaning of ye said pattent from me ye said James Boughan & from my heirs to my aforesaid Brothers John, Henry & Alexander Boughan & to their heires for ever, Provided allwaies that none of my said brothers shall at any time hereafter sell or dispose of his or their pte of ye said Land to any Stranger or person w:soever untill my said Brothers or my Selve doe refuse to buy it ..." Signed James Boughan. Witnesses: Tho: Edmundson, Mary her M mark Edmondson. Recognized in court on 5 June 1678. [Essex County, Virginia, Deed Book 6, page 41.]

On 16 July 1679, John Boughan, Henry Boughan (signed HB), and Tho Edmondson witnessed a deed from George Keiffell and Joane his wife to George Boyce. [(Old) Rappahannock County, Virginia, Deed Book 6, pages 87–88.]

He and his brother James apparently had some property that they deserted. Thomas Wood, John Wood, and Thomas Wood, Jr. were awarded 900 acres in Essex County of 20 April 1684. This was land adjacent "James Fullerton; Richard Gregory; the Horse path; Col. Goodrich & Mr. Henry Awbrey; & on land of Ball & Price. Granted James & John Boughan, 20 Apr. 1684, deserted & now granted by order, &c." John Boughan must therefore have been 21 by 20 April 1684, which would put his birth at 20 April 1663 or earlier. [Virginia Patent Book 7, page 379.]

On 21 October 1684 John Boughan received 500 acres in New Kent County, Virginia, St. Stevens Parish, "on S. side of York Riv., bet. branches of Black Cr. & Mattedeguin Cr." "Near Wm. Pullam; crossing Horsley's path; adj Mr. James Woody's land, formerly Wm. Stone's; to James More [Moore]. 300 acs. purchased of George Thomas & Samuel Right, 7 Sept. 1670; 200 acs. being surplus & due for trans. of 4 pers." [Presumably this is the same John Boughan.]

On 19 January 1694/5, James Boughan and Mary his wife and John Boughan and Mary his wife, all of Essex County, sold to John Dicks of the same. For 8,500 pounds of tobacco in cask, 500 acres

The will of John Boughan was dated 2 January 1697. Names his brother James Boughan executor. Mentions his wife Mary and daughter Mary and "my children". Signed John Boughan. Proved 10 March 1697. Witnesses: Thomas Evett, William his V mark Akins Junr, John Boughan Junr. [Essex County, Virginia, Deed Book 9, page 172.]

Documentation

Mary was mentioned in the will of her husband John, dated 2 January 1697.

Mary is likely Mary Mess (or Moss) — or the wife of John Mess (Moss) was an unknown Mary Boughan, sister to John, James, Henry and Alexander. The will of John Mess calls John Boughan "my brother" and includes a gift to Mary Boughan, daughter of John and Mary. [Essex County, Virginia, Deed Book 9, pages 163–165.] (But if the latter (Mary Boughan, sister to the four brothers), why would John Mess bequeath only to Mary Boughan, daughter of John and Mary, and not to other Boughan children? So it seems probable she was Mary Mess/Moss.)

Essex County Court of 10 August 1699. "Mary Boughan Complains that Jno Puckett did Some time about ye 24 day of July assault, beat & kick her after a cruel [blot] So that she was bruised and incapable of going about her affairs, whereupon Its refer'd to a Jury for Tryal who (by name Henry Woodnutt, Jno Hawkins, Tho Short, Wm Ayers, Job Virgid, Wm Irving, Jno Parker, Bartho Vawter, Tho Ramsey, Tho Munday Tho Hucklescott, & Geo Lloyd) being Sworne return for verdt: we of ye Jury do find for the abuse of the plt one thousand pounds of Tobo wch is ordered to be recorded and that the defendt pay the said [sic] one thousand pounds of Tobacco to the Plt with Costs [illeg, 1 word] Exo ffrom wch the defendt appeals to ye 6th day of the next Genll Court Its therefore ordered that he give Security to prosente the same according to Law." [Essex County, Virginia, Deed Book 10 reverse, page 6.]

Signed James Boughan. Witnesses: Tho: Edmundson, Mary her M mark Edmondson. Recognized in court on 5 June 1678. [Essex County, Virginia, Deed Book 6, page 41.]

On 16 July 1679, John Boughan, Henry Boughan (signed HB), and Tho Edmondson witnessed a deed from George Keiffell and Joane his wife to George Boyce. [(Old) Rappahannock County, Virginia, Deed Book 6, pages 87–88.]

On 6 February 1683/4, judgement was granted to Henry Boughan against Mr [illegible] Waters for 1,000 pounds good scented tobacco and Cask "being Due for building a house for the said Waters ... And James Baughan Attorney to Henry Baughan..." [(Old) Rappahannock County, Virginia, Order Book 1, 1683–1686, page 3.]

On 10 October 1701, James Boughan of the County of Essex sold to Henry Boughan of Gloucester County. For £20 sterling, 100 acres, more or less, in Essex County. Signed James Boughan. Witnesses: William Young, John Waters, Edward Duoland. [Essex County, Virginia, Deed Book 10, page 91.]

On 10 March 1702, Henry Voughan of Essex County of the one part sold to John Amis of the County of Gloucester of the other. For £55 sterling, 375 acres granted by Pattent unto the said Henry Vaughan in 1684 bordering the land of Major George Morris and James Voughan. Signed Henry his HB mark Boughan. Witnesses: Salvator Muscoe, Wm Johnson, Wm Allen. On 10 March 1702 acknowledged in Essex County court. [Essex County, Virginia, Deed Book 10, page 136.]

Beverley Fleet, Virginia Colonial Abstract, Volume II, page 118:
"p. 103. Deed of Gift. 10 July 1705. Henry Boughan gives his son James Boughan 100 acres to be taken immediately after his death, it being the plantation he lives on. Adjs Piscattaway Pickoson, land formerly belonging to Coll Thomas Goodrich and now to John Fargeson, and so along Fargeson's line to the Western branch and down the branch to Main Pickoson, etc. Signed Henry x Boughan. Wit: John Boughan, James Boughan Junr. Rec. 10 July 1705."

On 28 April 1711 Henry Boughan of Essex County was granted 37 acres of new land "in sd. Co; bet. land formerly Goodriche's & land granted James Boughan & Thomas Harper, on branches of Pescattaway Cr; by the Town Marsh". Imp. of: Thomas Wright.

Henry Boughan was mentioned in the 14 January 1711 will of his brother James Boughan: "Sixthly I lend unto my Brother Henry Boughan one Third part of my water mill dureing his naturall life & to receive one third part of the profitts thereof Provided he is at one third part of the charge of Repairing the Mill & keeps a good & Sufficient Miller there to do all such things as a Miller ought to doe and I give my Brother Henry all my wearing Cloaths." Henry's heirs were also to receive legacies of James's children filed to have living heirs. [Essex County, Virginia, Deed Book 14, pages 76–77.]

On 11 March 1711/1712, George Lloyd, Henry Boughan and John Boughan were bound 10,000 pounds tobacco. George Loyd has obtained lycense, apparently to keep and ordinary. Bottom of page 41 torn off. Signed Geo: Lloyd, Henry his HB mark Boughan, John Boughan. Witnesses: Nath fogg, Robert Jones. Recorded 11 April 1712. [Essex County, Virginia, Deed Book 41, pages 41–42.]

On 14 March 1712/13, Henry Boughan, John Pickett and Mary his wife, Francis Pierce and Eliza his wife, and William Cox were summoned to answer a plea by James Boughan, which sued for the division of 600 acres held in common. James sued for one third of the property, which was likely property that had been held in common by his father and three uncles: James Boughan (d. 1712), John Boughan, Henry Boughan, and Alexander Boughan. Alexander died at some unknown date, leaving no issue, dividing the rights of the parcel into thirds. Henry was still living in 1713, but John had died in 1697, so his share was further divided into thirds: John Pickett and Mary his wife, Francis Pierce and Eliza his wife, and William Cox, who must have married a daughter who was deceased prior to March 1713. (Unless William Cox purchased someone else's interest in the parcel, which seems unlikely.) "Henry Boughan John Pickett and Mary his wife ffrancis Pierce and Eliza his wife and Wm Cox were Sumoned to answere James Boughan of a plea wherefore whereas the sd Henry, John & Mary his wife the sd ffrancis and Eliza his wife the said Wm and the sd James do hold together and undivided to them & their heirs Six hundred acres of Land wth the appurtenances in the parish of S farnham in the County of Essex the Defts refuse to make partition thereof among them and the plt according to the form of the statute in this Case made & provided and the same to be Done do unjustly hinder agt the form of the Statute and whereupon the said James saith that the said Deftdts and this plt together & undivided do hold to them and their heirs the Land and appurtenances afd whereof it belongs to the plt to have one third and the sd Defts the other two thirds Separatly So that the sd plt may Improve his third Separatly and the said Defts may make Improvemt of their two thirds Seperatly the sd Defts to make peticon with the plt according to the for[m — page torn] of the Statute in this Case made & provided do deny and the same do unjustly hinder Contrary to the [torn] sd statute &c whereby the plt Saith he is the worse and damage hath one hundred pou[torn] the Defts being returnd Sumoned and failing to appear It is therefore Considered by the Court an attacht be granted to the plt agt the body of the sd Defts So that they be had at ye next Court to answere upon the premises and that the Lands aforesaid by Distrained & put into ye posession of the plt untill they the Defts Shall appear and answere as aforesaid" [Essex County, Virginia, Order Book 4, pages 511–512.] This seems to be related to an earlier case that was dismissed 12 December 1712: "The accon of partition brot by James Boughan agt Henry Boughan John Pickett & Mary his wife ffrancis Pierce & Eliza his wife and Wm Cox is Dismissed the plt failing to prosecute." [Essex County, Virginia, Order Book 4, page 489.] On 10 April 1713, the suit of 14 March 1713 was dismissed: "The accon brot by James Boughan agt Henry Boughan John Pickett & Mary his wife & ffrancis Pierce and Eliza his wife and Wm Cox is Dismissed ye plt failing to prosecute." [Essex County, Virginia, Order Book 4, page 521.]

Beverley Fleet, Virginia Colonial Abstracts, Volume II, page 24:
"p. 168. Deed. 14. Jan. 1713/14. James Boughan, Senr., planter, of South Farnham Par., son and heir of James Boughan of same Par., deceased, sells Henry Boughan, planter, of the same Par., all rights in — acres of land formerly in co-partnership between Thomas Harper and his grandfather James Boughan, both deceased, and formerly given by a Deed under the hand of his father James Boughan to John Boughan, Henry Boughan, and Alexander Boughan, dated 29th March 1678, the original patent dated 8 Oct. 1672. Signed James Boughan. Wit: James Edmondson, Jos Baker. Rec. 14 Jan. 1713/14."

On 22 March 1716/17, Essex County court continued an order for an appraisement of certain particulars from the estate of Richard Sharp now in the hands of Henry Boughan and John Haile, Henry Boughan having obtained an attachment against the Estate of Richard Sharp. [Essex County, Virginia, Order Book 5, page 17.]

On 23 May 1717, Essex County court continued an order for an appraisement of certain particulars from the estate of Richard Sharp now in the hands of Henry Boughan and John Haile, Henry Boughan having obtained an attachment against the Estate of Richard Sharp. [Essex County, Virginia, Order Book 5, page 39.]

On 18 September 1718, upon the return of an appraisement ordered by Essex County court of certain particulars from the estate of Richard Sharp attached by Henry Boughan, the court ordered the attachment to be discontinued. [Essex County, Virginia, Order Book 5, page 92.]

About Edward Moss, Sr., of York County

Other possible Children Robert Moss, b. 1634 in Lancaster, Lancashire, England

Edward Moss was the first Moss to emigrate to America. His name was first recorded in the York County, Virginia Court in 1625. However, other references give a much later date of 1644 for is residence in York County, Virginia. The most logical explanation for the difference in dates is that Edward Moss, being only 15 when first coming to America, may have returned to the colony of Virginia during the English Civil War (1642-1649), where he lived only a short time before his death.

Little else is known about Edward Moss except that he was a member of the Anglican church.

Biography

From http://mossfamilyhistory.blogspot.com/2014_06_01_archive.html?m=1

In our Virginia branch, Edward Moss is considered to be the progenitor of our Moss line and is often referred to as the "immigrant Moss"

Edward Moss (9) was born in Lancaster, England in 1610. He came to Virginia when 15 for a short time, perhaps with his older brothers, before returning to England. We know this because his name is recorded in old York County records.

Around 1632 he married Jane Ann Bridgette Beltchourton (10) (shorten to Ann Belt) in Westminster Abbey, London, England. They had five sons all born in Lancaster, Lancashire County, England over the time span from 1632 to 1637.

The sons were named

- Thomas (11),
- William Henry (13),
- John (15),

There is a mystery in the early Moss family that has puzzled me for years. I hope someone knows the answer.

First, the generally accepted timeline is:

1. Edward Moss 1610-1685 (& Ann Beltchourton) 2. His son Edward Moss 1637-1716 (& Eleanor Westwood) 3. His son Edward Moss ca 1650? -? Now the mystery:

This is from William & Mary Quarterly, Vol 7, No. 1 pg 24 (dated 1898). It is a note attached to the Armistead family and is quoted often, including the definitive "Moss of Virginia:"

"Edward Moss, "boatwright" an early resident of York Co.,Va., made a gift to his son Edward, in 1657, to the record of which the clerk affixed a drawing appearing to indicate armorial bearings. His wife was Eleanor, who in 1665, gave a calf to her son, Edward Moss, "sonne to Edward Mosse, deceased. This son was a justice in 1687, and made his will in 1716."

Who is the "deceased" Edward? Edward 1 and 2 are both alive in 1665.

Surely someone has questioned this before. I would REALLY appreciate it if someone could explain it!

Yes! I have the answer – The Edward Moss that everyone is assuming was born around 1610 died not die in 1685. He was alive when he gave his son Edward land on May 21, 1657. He was dead by 1665 when his widow Eleanor gave the younger Edward the calf.

The book "Early Virginia Immigrants 1623-1666" by George Greer, 1912, says Edward died in June 1658. I have studied transcripts and abstracts of as many early documents as I can find, but can't verify it, but it's logical.

The question is, where did this 1685 date come from? There is no Edward who died at that time. Did someone just transpose the 5 and the 8 and all the copycats pick it up? I guess it doesn't matter... the real problem is getting it corrected!

Family

From http://mossfamilyhistory.blogspot.com/2014_06_01_archive.html?m=1

In our Virginia branch, Edward Moss is considered to be the progenitor of our Moss line and is often referred to as the "immigrant Moss"

Edward Moss (9) was born in Lancaster, England in 1610. He came to Virginia when 15 for a short time, perhaps with his older brothers, before returning to England. We know this because his name is recorded in old York County records.

Around 1632 he married Jane Ann Bridgette Beltchourton (10) (shorten to Ann Belt) in Westminster Abbey, London, England. They had five sons all born in Lancaster, Lancashire County, England over the time span from 1632 to 1637.

The sons were named

- Thomas (11),
- William Henry (13),
- John (15),
- Robert Bruce (16) , and
- Edward (!8).

| Notes | ∘ Edward Moss was the first Moss to emigrate to America. His name was firstrecorded in the York County, Virginia Court in 1625. However, otherreferences give a much later date of 1644 for is residence in YorkCounty, Virginia. The most logical explanation for the difference indates is that Edward Moss, being only 15 when first coming to America,may have returned to the colony of Virginia during the English Civil War(1642-1649), where he lived only a short time before his death. Littleelse is known about Edward Moss except that he was a member of theAnglican church.The exact number of children born to Edward and Ann (Belt) Moss isuncertain.On 20 November 1654, the sons of Edward, the immigrant, -- William,Thomas, and Robert - were given a grant of 800 acres in Old RappahonnockCounty (now Lancaster), Virginia, for transporting 16 persons to theVirginia County.Source: RootsL, Scott A. mentioned Station..."

This is further shown by the deed between Richard Moss of Westmoreland County and Robert Jones. Richard Moss was evidently the son of Robert Moss and brother of William Moss. Apparently, Richard Moss had made a claim on the 386, nigh 400 acres, that William Moss sold to Robert Jones in 1717. So on March 18, 1723, Richard Moss sold his interest in the same property to Robert Jones.

This deed states:

"This INDENTURE made the Sixteenth day of March 1723 Between Richard Moss of the County of Westmoreland in (the) Colony of Virginia of one part & Robert Jones of the County of Essex in the County aforesd. Witnesseth that said Richard Moss for (the) sum of Fifteen hundred pounds of Tobacco to him paid hath granted unto said Robert Jones his heirs all that plantation & tract of land whereon Andrew Pritchet now lives in (the) parish of St. Anne in aforesd County of Essex & containing four hundred acres bounded Beginning at ye fork of a Swamp comeing out of Little Occupacia Creek oposet to Capt. Robert Brooks Dwelling house where he now lives. Thence up the South branch thereof to the land of William Jones. Thence along the several courses of said William Jones his land until it comes to the land of Cornelius Sale which he purchased of Francis Paget. Thence along several courses of the sd Sale's land to the land of Robert Brooke wch: was lately Abraham Stepps. Thence along the several courses of said land to a Swamp and so down the sd Swamp to the beginning..."

Note, that by comparing the two deeds of William Moss and Richard Moss it establishes that Thomas Farmer's land became Francis Padget's land and that Padget sold the land to Cornelius Sale.

Farmer's land was divided from William Jones' land by William Jones spring branch. Today, this branch still exists, but has meandered through the centuries as topo maps from the early 1900's show; when compared to the modern tax assessors maps. These assessors maps also do not show the next branch along Chestnut swamp which forms; in part, the N.W. side of Thomas Farmer's property. However, it does appear on old topo maps from the early 1900's. This branch may have filled in naturally over the years or been filled in by modern development. This N.W. boundry of Thomas Farmer's land splits tax parcel 42 in half, which was at one time, in part, an 80 acre parcel owned by another Sale family member, William Eugene Sale, son of Benjamin Leonard Sale and Mary Susan Wright, until 1912. This N.W. boundry of Farmer's land forms the S.E. boundry to the land that Leomidon Tucker, father of Daniel Tucker, who bought, or was given, this land by Robert and Rebecca Moss on September 3rd, 1679. As a side note, you can see from the previous deed from Robert Moss to Thomas Farmer that Robert Moss had two wives-Rebecca and Mary.

The description of the deed between Robert Moss and Leomidon Tucker is as follows:

"KNOW ALL MEN by these present that I Robert Moss of the County of Rappae: Planter, together with the consent of Rebecca my beloved Wife, for diverse good causes me thereunto mooving, as alsoe for the love and affection wee beare unto Leomidon Tucker of the abovesaid County, doe for us freely give and make over unto the said Leomidon Tucker his heires and assignes forever One hundred acres of land being in the Parish of Sittingbourne (later St. Anne's) in the County aforesaid on the South side of the Rappae: River back in the woods on the SW branch of Occupacy Creek beginning at a marked red Oak on the corner tree of the land of Robt. Gaines, and runing thence along the line of the land of Thomas Parker for length, a certaine proportional quantity of perches (poles) according to the dimension of the land above specified thence the next Course into the land above specified, thence the next Course into the land of Robert Moss according to proportion parallell with the first course back againe; to the line of the land of William Bates and finally along the said line to the first mentioned station, we the Robert and Rebecca Moss..."

signed Robert Coleman.

Proved in Essex Court July 11 1712

[The plaintiff was the grandson of Maj. James(1651-1711) & Mary Unknown. Mary Pickett was apparently the only heir of John Boughan (1653-1697), the brother of Maj. James and Mary Moss (daughter of John Moss and Mary Boughan (a sister of Maj. James). Henry Boughan (1658-1738) was another brother of Maj. James. William Cox had married a daughter of John Moss and Mary Boughan (sister of Maj. James). All the other defendants were part of the Maj. James Boughan family. So what does this mean for Mary Pierce? We know that Mary was the recent bride of Francis (since July 1712). The only thing that makes sense of the lawsuit is that Francis Pierce married Mary, the recently widowed Mrs. Maj. James Broughan. She is the heir of Maj. James who brings Francis Pierce into the lawsuit.

Incidently, Wm Cox and Frances (Wood) his 2nd wife had land adjacent to John Pickett and Mary (Essex Deed Book 30 (1761), p24 Feb. 20, 1765, John Pickett and Mary, his wife, of Caroline County, convey by deed of gift, to Mace Pickett, son of the said John and Mary Pickett, all that tract of land the said John and Mary Pickett hold in Southfarnham Parish, Essex County, containing 125 acres , and adjoining lands of William Cox and Henry Cox, and on Piscataway Creek. Witnesses: Edward Vauter, William Pickett, ir [jr?], Mace (M his mark) Pickett, junr.]

19 Sep 1723 Essex Wills, Bonds and Inventories 1722-30: Francis Peirce receives a payment owed him from the John Meador Estate. [While this is a minor payment, and may or may not indicate a family connection, but Francis Pierce also witnessed the will, which suggests that there is indeed a family connection. There is a very oblique connection through Francis' 2nd wife, the former Mary Boughan (John's son Richard Meador married Anne Moss, whose mother Mary Boughan was the sister of the 1st husband James Boughan of Francis' 2nd wife Mary). The families Meador, Moss and Boughan probably did not keep all these connections straight except to know that they were kin, and Francis was now kin having married into the group. In addition, Mary Boughan's maiden name is not known, and it could very well have been Meador which would be a stronger kin connection. The Meador family in America is reported to descend from Ambrose Meador, who immigrated to Isle of Wight Co., VA by 1636. The Meadors then moved up both sides of the Rappahannock in Old Rappahannock Co. about the same time as the Underwoods (remember that Sarah Underwood married Col. Wm. Peirce of Westmoreland Co.)]

5 May 1731 Spotsylvania County Orders 1730-1732: p47 "In the action of Debt brought p James Pickett Plt. agst. William Peirse Defendt. [four entries between 5 May 1731 andd Mar 1732] an alias capias is granted the Plantiff." [1st mention of William Pierce in Spotsylvania, may mean that he was not of age prior to about 1730 (ie, born abt 1709), or that he just moved there. Not a good sign when his first mention in the records includes an alias capias (warrant for his arrest). James Pickett is the son of John and his wife Mary Pickett, who were sued by James Broughan in Dec 1712 along with Henry Boughan, Francis and his wife Mary Pierce and Wm Cox. He lived in King and Queen Co., c.1735, was constable of Orange Co. c.1739 and moved to Anson Co., NC ~1759. The interaction of Francis Pierce of Essex and William Pierce of Spotsylvania/Orange and this Pickett line in Essex & King & Queen to Spotsylvania to Orange Co.s suggests strongly that this William Pierce (eventually of Orange Co.) is the son of Francis Pierce of Essex Co.]

8 Aug 1751 Caroline Co., VA Order Book 1746-1754 Part Three 1750-1752: William Gibson makes choice of Andrew Knight to be his guardian, who with Jeremiah Pearce and John Pickett [John Pickett (~1680-1765) and wife Mary (Boughan) ended their lives in Caroline Co., after leaving records in Essex, Spotslyvania and Orange along the way. John's wife's aunt Mary (husband of Maj. James Boughan) married 2nd Francis Pierce, Jeremiah's father. John Pickett had many associations with Jeremiah's brother, William Pierce.] acknowledged their bond.

HERALDIC BLAZON OF THE COAT OF ARMS OF THE BAUGHN FAMILY

SHIELD: Or (gold) upon a fesse (broad horizontal stripe) sable (black) between three wolves heads couped (cut off) of the second (i.e. black) three horseshoes argent (silver) pointed alternately up and down.

CREST: An arm couped at the shoulder fesseways (horizon-tally) habited (dressed) or (gold) garnished (decorated) sable (black) the hand grasping a dagger point upward (natural color) supporting a wolf's head as in the arms.

MANTLING: Or (gold) and vert (green).

SUPPORTERS: Two lions rampant (fighting position) proper (natural color) semee' of plated (dotted with silver coins).

DEVICE: Virtus ot Propositi Tenax.

(Latin: "Hold to Bravery and Convictions")

EXPLANATION OF THE COAT OF ARMS

In heraldry gold is the moral denoting strength, authority, and wealth; black signifies sorrow, sin, mourning and dignity; silver denotes purity, eloquence, virginity, and innocence; while green refers to a religious temperament, eternity, over-lasting life and fecundity.

The fesse or broad horizontal band across the middle of the shield is called an honorable ordinary, which simply means one of the honorable charges most ordinarily used.It is a mark of noble blood and knighthood and takes its shape from the sword belt of the knight.

The horseshoe is the symbol of the knight (in German knecht or cniht). The alternate up and down pattern denotes that the knight is ready for either offense or defense.

The arm represents force and the dagger power through force of arms.

The wolves' heads in the Baughn arms may have one of three different interpretations.One would have to delve very deep-ly and minutely into the family history to attempt to ascertain which applies.

1)- In the first place in ancient records there is a reference to a "Lupus" Baughn who seems to have been a kind of "robber baron" in the 13th century. The word for wolf in Latin (much used in those days in proper names) was Lupus. The wolves upon the escutcheon may have reference to this person and there-by constitute a canting. A canting is a heraldic pun or play upon the name. In as much as the employment of family surnames and family coats of arms came into use at about the same time (circa 900) we frequently find families taking their surnames from charges upon their arms, of placing bearing upon their arms which refer directly or indirectly to their surnames. Thus we have a Moor's head upon the Moore arms; a fox upon the shield of the Foxxe family; three apples upon the Appleton arms and a stand of trees upon the Woodside arms. Cases of this kind are too numerous to mention; however, the one thing that they all have in common is that they are a very ancient grant of arms.

2)- The wolf was the largest and fiercest animal known in Western Europe. He was therefore sometimes adopted into Teutonic heraldry as a symbol of power and bravery, much as was the Brit-ish lion. The Teutons were always more "practical" in their heraldry.

The wolf in various positions or the wolf's head is a fairly common charge of Teutonic heraldry.

3)- Since earliest recorded history in Western and Central Europe and later in Scandinavian countries and Britain the wolf's head has been the symbol of the outlaw. While later this term 'outlaw' (and thereby "wolf's head") came to mean a simple rob-ber or bandit, initially it signified one who held out against the established order, whatever it was. The old robber barons were called "wolves head".

When German Protestants in the Pfaltz or Palatinate joined Luther as against the Catholic Church, they were called "wolves' heads", by the Pope. Charlemagne called one of his sons who rebelled a "wolf's head".

It may have been that the Boughns were called "wolves' heads" for some rebellion against state or church, or it may just as well have been that they were charged by state or church with suppressing outlaws. The only thing certain is that a wolf's head "couped" means a dead one.

The name Baughn or Baughan is of definite Old German, pos-sibly Frankish, origin. The spelling is immaterial down to certain point, for up until the past 300 years there was no such thing as "spelling" as we know it today. One spelled a name or a word as it presently suited him.

In Old German the name signifies "a builder".

The mantling or decorative matter around the shield has no especial shape. This is left to the taste and discretion of the artist. The only heraldic rule as to the Mantle (also sometimes called a lambrequin) in British arms, was that it must be in the livery colors of the shield; i.e. the two first metals, furs, or colors mentioned in the blazon. In German and some Continental arms this rule sometimes varied but where there was a variation, it is always so set forth in the blazon with the specific colors of the mantling given, as is the case with the Baughn arms.

The mantle takes its name from a cloak or mantle which the mounted knight wore suspended from his helmet. This was to protect him, encased as he was in metal, from the summer's hot sun rays or the winter's snows which could have fairly cooled or frozen him as the case might have been. This mantle would become cut and slashed in combat and the knight was very proud of these rents. He usually had them patched in contrasting colors to make them more noticeable.

he received a grant of 250 acres land in old Rappahannock County, Virginia, on June 9, 1658, adjoining a tract of land surveyed for Samuel Parry or Perry. Parry's grant had been issued Feb. 7, 1652 for 1250 acres in Lancaster County, on the south side of Pascation Creek. In 1663, James Boughan mortgaged his cattle and tobacco crop to Andrew Gilson, and in 1668 he sold 100 acres to Thomas Troth or Troath.

A Widow Baughan and James Baughan are mentioned in a land grant in Rappahannock County dated Oct. 21, 1687, to William Leake and others. Member of this Leake family migrated to Leaksville, North Carolina at a later date. This grant of land was on the south east side of a branch called Claypatch Branch, and adjoined that land of Widow and James Baughan and Perry's land. (see Leake land grant)

James and Thomasie Baughan had three (iii) known children:

11 HENRY BAUGHAN, died between 1731 and 1738. He was married twice, his first wife unknown, his second, was Sarah, maiden name unknown. (It may have been Edmondson) He wrote his will Jan 20, 1731 which was proved in Essex County, Va., May 16, 1738. At this date he had children who were still young by his second marriage. (iv)

111.Capt. James Boughan, sheriff in Essex County, Va., 1734; Will dated Nov. 28, 1748; proved in Essex County March 21, 1748 (1749 present style). His executors were his wife Mary, and Thomas Barker who had married his sister, Ann Boughan. He married Mary Tyler, daughter of Richard and Susanna Tyler of Essex County. (Richard Tyler's will proved May 21, 1734; dated Dec. 4, 1732.) iii

111211111 Kenyon Stevenson, the correspondent, who gave me this information and also supplied the above named wills.

1113. Aristipus Boughan

The 1767 tax lists of Pittsylvania shows the name Arestripes Baghan as a tithe with William Candler and a negro slave, Chester, on the list of Archibald Gordon. This is list is printed in the Virginia Magazine of History, Vo1 24, page 184; also in Clements History of Pittsylvania County, page 281.This reference proves that Aristipus Boughan had gone from Essex County and settled in Pittsylvania County by 1767. The difference in spelling of the name could be due to the lack of education on the part of the person who recorded these things by longhand, or due to phonetic spell-ing, since at that time, there was no dictionaries for spelling.

Essex Deed Book 27, page 200 shows that on November 29, 1755, Aristapus was a witness to a deed given by Heaekiah Brown and his wife Sally, to Sam-uel Croxton. Thus we can see that Aristapus re-mained in Essex County at least 6 years after his father's will was probated on March 21, 1749, but that before another 12 years he had gone "west" to settle in Pittsylvania County, which in 1767 was wild frontier country. It was only a step, so to speak, for him to move on to Bedford County, which in 1781, became Campbell County, and there to make his will and die in 1786.He was probably born during the 1720s, and so only in his 60s when he died. (See will of Aris Boughan, 1786.)

Records in Campbell County, Virginia, show that Aris Baughan left a will probated in 1786 naming sons, Henry and James, his wife, living but not named, and minor children; also a deed dated 1807, in which James and Henry Baughan sold land. The problem is, are James and Henry of the 1807 deed the same as those named in the 1786 will, and, if so, is this Henry the same as the one who married Patsy Whitlow in 1805. Documentary proof these conjectures would establish the North Carolina branch of the family back to the land grant to James Boughan in 1658.

One note of interest is that Patrick Weston Baughn, son of Henry and Patsy Baughan, who settled in Savannah, Georgia, had a son named Ariss or Arris who was killed when he was young. Patrick was the progenitor of a large family of Baughns in Savannah who are cousins of the North Carolina family.

112. Henry Boughan

113. Ann Boughan, married Thomas Barker.

114. a daughter who married Wm. Harper.

115. a daughter who married John Ball

12. John Boughan, will 1697, named wife Mary _____.

13. James Boughan, called Major James Boughan. He was a prominent citizen of Virginia and a member of the House of Burgess from Essex County.

Biography

William Henry Moss, I [1] son of Edward Moss and Jane Ann Beltchourton) was born April 21, 1632 in Lancaster, Lancashire, England, and died 1685 in Old Rappahannock, York County, Virginia.

William Moss returned to England to attend College at Oxford.While in England he married "Lady Jane "Bridgett" North," the daughter of Lord Dudley North, the Earl of North.After the marriage he returned to Rappahannock County with his new bride.

There is a record that "Robert, Thomas and William Moss, brothers, purchased 800 acres in Lancaster County, in the freshes of the Rappahannock River of the south side on 20 Nov 1654."They also purchased 880 acres in Rappahannock County prior to 1660.They imported 16 persons with them.They made their homes in Rappahannock County and died there.

Lady North died in 1676. Brother Thomas' will was probated 13 Jun 1678 and makes mention of wife, Elizabeth and daughters, Elizabeth and Frances.After his death, his wife Elizabeth married Edmund Crask and to them were born two children.His wife Elizabeth's will was probated 12 Jan 1635, in which she leaves bequests to "Frances Moss and Elizabeth Moss, daughters of my former husband, Thomas Moss ..." and also bequests to Brothers, Robert Moss and William Moss." William Moss' will was probated 1 Jul 1685, he leaves bequests to son, William, daughters Elizabeth and Frances and brother Robert.He died possessed of a goodly amount of property - leaving his son, William the "plantacon containing 880 acres," plus one other parcel of land containing 600 acres," and to daughter, Frances "400 acres of land adjoining the track of land whereon Thomas Newman now liveth," and to daughter, Elizabeth "150 acres of land which I bought of Patrick Norton" and "also to daughter, Elizabeth "200 acres of land where Thomas Newman now lives together with the Plantacon and all things belonging to it, she to enjoy the same as soon as the lease is out."He also left a smaller plantation, land, slaves, livestock, and household furnishings to his two daughters.Among the items he divided between his daughters were, two feather beds to each, together with the

- Richard's parentage is unknown, although there are two possibilities, Jacob Hobbs overseer of Thomas Goodrich, and Captain Francis Hobbs of Isle of Wight County.
- Richard witnessed the will of James Love in 1681, at which time he said his age was 37, given an estimated birth date of 1644.
- In 1673 Richard and Mary sold land on the east side of Williamson's Creek to John Chambers.
- In 1675 Richard and Mary sold land in the same area to James Sampson
- Richard died 1683, probably on a hunting expedition on the west side of the Rappahannock River in the wilderness. John Waters searched for and found the body and returned it for burial. There was no will, but an inventory was taken, including 44,859 pounds of tobacco and many animals, indicating a respectable wealth.

Anne Hobbs has been identified by some sources as the wife of Richard Branham, but this appears to be in error (there are overlapping children in both marriages).

   All of the land Thomas Meades owned on the north side of the Rappahannock River eventually came into the possession of Mary Meador, although how is not known. After Mary's death, the land she inherited went to her daughter, Anne Hobbs.

   Anne Hobbs was the daughter and only known child of Richard Hobbs and Mary Meadors, birth date unknown. She married Richard Green, a neighbor, by whom she had four daughters. When Richard died in 1705, Anne remained single for 10 years before marrying John Bramham. They had no children.

In 1721 John Branham and his wife Anne sold 200 acres of land (that had originally belonged to Thomas Meads) to Samuel Godwin. (Richmond Deed Book 8, p. 55 - deed names Anne Barnham as the granddaugher of Thomas Meads)
The next day the land was returned in another deed. In 1734, after Anne died, John sold the 200 acres to his step-son-in-law Benjamin Rust, and later confirmed title to Benjamin of another 100 acres once belonging to Thomas Meads and sold to Francis Gower.
Anne died 27 December 1726 (Register of North Farnham Parish, Richmond, Virginia)

CAPT. RICHARD HAILE and MARY, of ESSEX COUNTY

Richard Haile was the first Haile to reside in Essex County. When he resided there, it was the county of Rappahannock, which today is referred to as "Old Rappahannock" to distinguish it from the modern county of the same name in the northern hills of Virginia. The date of his birth is not ascertained, but it can be probably estimated in the 1630's. He could be the Richard Haile that immigrated to Charles City County in 1638, but evidence is needed to link these two together. The first documented evidence of him is in Warwick County, Virginia, on 17 January 1665, when a deed refers him as bounding that of land sold to Richard Dixon for transporting 5 persons into the colony. By 9 November 1669, Haile was in Rappahannock County, as he witnessed the will of John Cox on that date (it would not be recorded until 10 February 1695, however).

The family information for Richard Haile is sparse at this time, but there are accounts that link him to Nicholas Haile (or Heale) of Lancaster County). The two are probably related, but not enough evidence suggests the link, largely because Nicholas remained in the northern Tidewater most of his life, while Richard resided further to the south. This Richard probably had a son Richard Haile junior, for Henry Awbrey gave a cow unto his godson (Richard Junior), who "was not yet ten years" on 7 March 1671/72 (Essex [Rappahannock] Co, VA, Deed Book 5, p 19). That same year, on 20 October 1672, he was acknowledged as a neighbor and landowner in a deed of Thomas Gouldman and his wife, Alice, to William Dyer (per Rappahannock Co Deed Book 5, pp 101-03).

By consent of his wife, Elizabeth, a Theophilus Whale sold 450 acres of land (probably dowered to Elizabeth by her family, originally) to Richard Haile and Daniell Swillivant on 4 January 1674/75 and 28 September 1674, respectively, all signed off by Governor William Berkeley (Rappahannock Co Deed Book 5, pp 379-80). He later purchased additional land in Rappahannock County from William Acres, on 3 February 1679.

Richard Haile gave his son-in-law Richard Taylor (Tayler) a mare on 17 April 1682, per a deed in Rappahannock Co Deed Book 6, p 163:

"Know all men by these presents That I Richard Haile of the County of Rappa and pish of ffarnham doe hereby ffreely give unto Richard Tayler my Sonn in law a yearling Mare Colt of a dark bay Coulorn branded with two docking Irons mealy mouthed. And a stare in the forehead To have use and Enjoy the said Mare Colt unto the Said Richard Tayler and to his heires & assignes for ever As Witness my hand this 17[?]th day of Aprill 1682". Signed Richard his 2 mark Haile. Witnesses: Phil: Pendleton, R R, William Bendery. Recorded xx4: dic Aprilis Anno 1682."

Richard Haile apparently had either a neighborly or business connection (or both) with Henry Awbrey, who was one of Rappahannock County's leading men at the time, for on 5 February 1684, Haile settled 5,100 acres of land for Awbrey. Haile would purchase 100 acres of this land for himself at a later date that year. On 26 October 1684, Haile patented 720 acres of land along the Rappahannock and Metapong Rivers for the import of 6 persons into Virginia. Haile also sold 100 acres of land to Richard Worsdall, also a planter, for "3,500 pounds tobacco and cask" on 28 March 1685, land that had previously been in the ownership of Thomas Saddler. The deed, found in Rappahannock Co Deed Book 7, p 180, was signed off by his wife, Mary (leaving her mark), with the signatures of witnesses Katharine and Thomas Edmondson. This deed proves the name of his wife, though it is often found in genealogies today that this Richard Haile is confused with the Richard Hale of Massachusetts, also a captain, who married Mary Bullock of Essex County, Massachusetts.

A court order in Rappahannock County shows that a woman, who was apparently already an indentured servant in service under Haile, was bound to Richard Haile for a longer term on 3 June 1691 for bastardy:

""In regard of the loss and trouble that Capt. Richard Haile hath sustained by his servant Hannah Lambeth in having a bastard child in his service, it is ordered that she serve one year for the same according to Law after her time of Indenture. Munday confest judgement to ye church wardens of S. Farmham Parish (for use of sd. Parish) for five hundred pounds of tobacco: being Hannah Lambeth's fine for comitting the sin of fornication. It is ordered that Hannah Lambeth serve her master Capt. Richard Haile halfe a year after her time of Indenture or custom is expired in compensation of his paying her fine for committing the sin of fornication."

On 6 October 1694, Richard purchased 720 acres of land in Essex County, bounded by Thomas Gouldman, the deceased Maj. Robert Beverley, Theophilus Whale, and Daniell Swellivant (Essex Co Deed Book 9, pp 130-31). 450 acres of this land came from Whale and Swellivant, while the other 270 acres were from "overplush" due for the import of 6 negroes into the county. This import was recorded on 10 September 1694 for import of "Patrick Bradly, Elinor Corkeley, Andrew, Guy, Anne (the latter three slaves). "Out of love and affection," Richard sold these 720 acres of land to his son John on 1 November 1696 (as witnessed by Thomas, James, and Mary Edmondson, in Essex Co Deed Book 9, pp 130-31). This is one of the last mentions of Richard Haile, for on 10 July 1703, when John Haile sold 100 acres of this land (that lay partly in King & Queen Co), his father was referred to as deceased. The other last mention of Haile was on 27 July 1699, when the estate of John Woods listed accounts and debts that were due to several people, including 40 pounds due to Captain Richard Haile, and 60 pounds due to John Haile. Of the signatures acknowledging the debt, Richard's signature does not appear, but John did sign. Richard was probably in ill health or had died by this time.

No further record has been found of Mary, wife of "Captain" Richard, and it is often seen that John Haile is the "sole surviving heir" of Richard. By 1703, this was probably true, for no record has ever revealed the name of the daughter who married Richard Tayler, and no record has found out what happened to the Richard Haile, Junior, who received the cow in 1672.

JOHN HAILE and wife MARY, of ESSEX COUNTY

John Haile kept a busy life as a well-to-do planter in Essex County throughout his lifetime. As the only surviving son of his father, Richard, he inherited all of his father's extensive land holdings within inland Essex and King & Queen Counties. Some of the first entries of John, however, were not until after 1700, by which John was at least in his mid-20's. One of the first entries is when John Haile sold 100 acres of land to John Loveing, for 2,000 pounds of tobacco on 10 July 1703, starting out as follows (Essex Co Deed & Wills, Book 11, pp 29-31):

"To all Exparince popell to whom these Presents shall com I John Haille of the County of Essex son and hare of Cap't Richard Haille Deceased send greeting…"

The land sold to Loveing was in King & Queen County, part of a greater tract of land that "granted to my Father Cap't Richard Haill lying part in King and Queen Co and part in Essex Co, Boundries begin at a marked Whight oak standing upon a branch side that Iesweth out of Bevarley run that cometh out of Mattaponey river, adjoining portobago path…"

This deed was witnessed by James and Joseph Edmondson and recorded on the same day, on 10 July 1703 (Beverley Fleet, Essex Co Records, 1703-06, p 6). In 1704, John Haile paid a Quit Rent on 900 acres of land. Haile was one of the four appraisers of the estate of Simon Cobnall (Copnall), which was recorded in Essex County on 9 March 1706, with James Fullerton, John Meador, and John Gatewood also signing (Beverley Fleet, VA Colonial Abstracts, Vol 1, p 127; Essex Co Will Book, p 191). Haile sold 252 acres of land on Beverly's Run on 10 June 1708 to Adam Denning. The deed again states that Haile was the only son and heir of Richard Haile, and that John's wife, Mary, relinquished her dower.

He witnessed two deeds for land sales that Robert Richardson of South Farnham Parish sold to Henry Shackelford, the first being on 13 September 1711, along with William Allen, and the second being on 19 December 1711, with Jonathan (Jno) Pickett (which was recorded on 12 June 1712) (Beverley Fleet, Essex Co Wills & Deeds, 1711-14, p 22). Haile also served as witness to the will of John Prise, which was dated 27 November 1709, the original witnesses being Thomas Harper, John Haile, Nicholas Berrey, and Margarett Hopson. It was probated on 9 April 1713, with Haile signing his own name, along with James Fullerton and John Ball (Fleet, Essex Co Wills & Deeds, 1711-14, p 44). Haile would later sign off the probate of the will of James Fullerton on 13 May 1714, along with James' widow, Sarah, James Griffing (who was also Executor), Jonathan (Jno) Pickett, and William Picket (Fleet, Essex Co Wills & Deeds, 1711-14, p 85).

John appears in the court orders of Essex County from the meeting minutes of 22 March 1716, when "Upon the Attachment obtained by Henry Boughan agst the Estate of Richard Sharp the order for an Appraisement of certain perticulars [sic] in the hands of the Plt & one John Haile is continued till next Court." This motion was continued through the court session of 23 May 1717 and 17 July 1717, but does not appear to have been resolved (Essex Co Order Book No. 5, 1716-18; Sparacio, Order Book Abstracts of Essex Co, 1716-23, Pt 1, pp 11, 29, 46).

Haile served as witness to the will of Benjamin Fisher of South Farnham Parish, which was dated on 16 April 1716, along with Benjamin Morris, Thomas Bryan, and Richard Jones. He was not present at the probation of the will, however, for the June term of Essex County Court (Fleet, Essex Co Wills & Deeds, 1714-17, p 73; Essex Co Will Book 9, p 580). In that July, however, he was one of the three appraisers of the estate of "Gibsons Estate for faruson" (Ferguson), recorded 17 July 1716, along with Henry Shackelford and Henry Boughn (Fleet, Essex Co Wills & Deeds, 1714-17, p 78; Essex Co Will Book 9, p 615). John Haile also witnessed the will of Richard Dudley on 10 December 1716, along with John Billups and George Thompson (Fleet, VA Colonial Abstracts, Vol 1, p 202; Essex Co Wills & Deeds, p 79). Per the order book minutes dated 16 July 1717, it was "Ordered that Erasmus Allen, John Gatewood, James Grifin & John Haile, or any three of them [being first sworn before a Justice of peace for this County] appraise Estate of Richard Dudley deced & make return of their proceedings to next Court" (Sparacio, Order Book Abstracts, Pt 1, p 43).

In the minutes of 1718 and 1719, it appears that an assignee of John named Samuel Clayton brought suit against two families for debt payments, starting on 16 July 1718. On that date,

"Joseph Reeves and Susanna his Wife & Samll Waggoner & Christianna his Wife, Admrs of Richd Price deced, the Defts, on mocon have oyer…" (Sparacio, Order Book Abstracts, Pt 1, p 100; Essex Co Order Book 5, p 145), which was continued through August sessions. On 19 November 1718, Clayton was granted the judgment for "Three hundred pounds of Tobo & costs out of Estate of sd Richard (Price) when assets come to Defts hands after all former Judgments satisfyed" (Sparacio, Order Book Abstracts, Pt 2- Order Book No 5, 1718-20, p 25). On 16 December 1718, John testified by oath for the power of attorney of John Wood and Elizabeth Meade to James Boughan (Sparacio, Pt 2, pp 32-33).

On 18 June 1719, "John Hail by John Bates his attorney confessed Judgmt to Robt Elliot for Three hundred pounds of tobacco Convt. Its therefore considered sd Elliot have and recover of sd Hail ye like Quantity wth an attorneys fee and costs." (Sparacio, Pt 2, p 80).

The order books show that on 19 July 1720, "Edward Searle appear'd and confess'd Judgmt to John Hale in Debt for Four pounds and ten pence, It is therefore ordered sd Searle pay sd Hale ye same with one attorneys fee & costs" (Sparacio, Order Book Abstracts of Essex Co, VA, Pt 3: Order Book 5, 1720-21, p 27). The following month, it was "Ordered that David Scot, John Haile, John Gatewood and James Griffin or any three of them, being first sworn before a Justice of peace for this County, appraise the Estate of Erasmus Allen deced & return their proceedings therein to next Court" (Sparacio, Pt 3, p 32).

On 20 June 1721, Haile and Richard Brown served as witnesses for John Edmondson against Thomas Franks, who was "brought before this Court on suspicion for feloniously taking a saddle & saddle cloth from off John Edmondson's Mare and the Court having examined the said Franks & ye Evidences, and the Saddle & Saddle Cloth being produced, It is ordered that the Sherif take the said Thomas Franks to ye County Whipping Post & there give him the said Thomas twenty five lashes well laid on his bare back, and also ordered that the said Thomas Franks remain in Custody of the Sherif till he gives bond with security in the sum of Twenty pounds Currt money for his good behavior and that he be then discharged paying all costs" (Sparacio, Pt 3, p 94).

John served as one of the witnesses of the last Will and Testament of William Covington when it was brought to court for probation on 18 July 1721. George Newbell and William Covington, Jr, also served as the subscribing witnesses (Sparacio, Pt 3, p 102). On 15 May 1722, Haile, John Gatewood, Thomas "Sthreshly," Jr, and Charles Waller were ordered by the Essex County court to appraise the estate of Alexander How. On July 17th of the same year, Haile was again ordered by the court, along with Henry Shackleford, John (Jno) Allen, and William Allen, to appraise the estate of Edward Faulkner (Sparacio, Order Book Abstracts, Pt 4, pp 30, 52; Essex Co Order Book 5, pp 649, 678).

On 19 February 1722/23, John Haile brought suit against Samuel Edmondson and Philip Stockdell, the executors of the estate of Andrew McCalpin, apparently over a debt owed from the estate. This is likely because Robert Payne also brought up suit against the two executors for Debt on the same day. Edmondson and Stockdell were granted a continuance through the following session in Haile's case, which took place on 20 March 1722/23. However, they failed to "answer the Suit of Robert Payne," therefore "order is granted Deft for one thousand pounds of Tobo as in case of Nihil Dicit returnable to next Court for Judgment." (Sparacio, Pt 4, pp 103, 118)

On 20 April 1724, John sold part of his land holdings in a deed recorded in Deed Book 18 (Sparacio, Deed Abstracts of Essex Co, VA, 1724-28, Book 18, p 12):

"This indenture made the 19/20th day of April 1724 Between John Haile of ye Parish of Sofarnham & County of Essex & John Edmondson of aforesd Parish and County Witnesseth that the said John Haile for sum of one thousand six hundred pounds of good Tobacco and Cask by these presents doth grant unto the said John Edmondson and to his heirs a Divident of Land being part thereof in County of Essex and part in County of King & Queen upon the branches of Mattapany and the branches of ye head of Hoskins Creek containing 100 acres bounded Beginning at a corner joining upon William Holt from thence by the line of Jonathan Hailes to a corner by Tho Bournes line from thence by the Line of Tho Bournes to a corner by Richard Holts from thence by the line of Richard Holts to a corner in Adam Denhams line and along the said line to ye place it first began the said Land being part of a tract of 700 acres formerly belonging to said John Hailes To Hold unto said John Edmondson with appurtenances And also to another part or Divident of the said former tract of seven hundred acres containing 200 acres being formerly in dispute between James Boughan deceased and aforesaid John Haile…

John Haile further divided his father's original land patent in 1742, divising the land to three of his sons, John, Thomas, and Benjamin (Essex Co Deed Book 22, pp 404-08). On 17 August 1744, John wrote his will, and it was later probated on 16 October 1744 in Essex County. His children named were Francis, John, Thomas, Benjamin, Mary Edmondson, and Susanna Allen. His widow, Mary, and his son John were appointed the executors of the will (Essex Co Will Book 7, pp 214-15). William Tyler and John Ferguson served as the securities, entering a bond of 1,000 pounds sterling. Mary and John Haile handled the settling of the estate (per Essex Co Will Book 7, pp 216-17), with the inventory and appraisal made by John Ferguson, James Allen, and William Dix on 16 October 1744:

"He owned 2 cows and calves, 2 cows and yearlings, 2 barren cows, a stear, bull and yearling, a parcell of hoggs, 9 sheep, 1 horse and saddle, a horse collar and 12 geese.
Four feather beds and furniture, a large table, a large trunk, an oval table, a small trunk, 2 old leather chairs, 6 rush chairs, 2 old rush chairs, an old chest, a safe, a spinning wheel, an old table, a parcell of pots, 3 trays, a fflask [sic], a parcell of cups, 2 looking glass, 3 towels, 2 table cloaths, one sheet, 3 3/4 yards Kersey, 13 1/2 yards of cotton, 1 pr of irons, 2 parcell of old books, a large Bible, another book, 2 pr wool cards, a pair of spoon molds, one old pr of money scales, a grayter, a parcell of knives and forks, a parcell of earthenware, a cannister, a funnel, salt seller, pepper box, 2 candlesticks, a pewter cup, mustard pot, 2 Tankard, crewet, a porrenger, razor, old lock, tin pan, 1 pr of stillards, tin kettle, 16 spoons, 6 quart bottles, pocket bottle, 6 deep plates, 10 shallow plates, 2 old plates, a large bason, 4 old basons, an old bason, 2 old dishes, one large dish, 4 dishes, spice morter and pestle, 2 skillets, 1 spit and ladle, 1 pr of flesh forks, 1 skimer and iron rack, 48 pounds of pot iron, old brass kettle, 3 old water pales, an old frying pan, a bell, 4 old bells, a chamber pot, a large straw basket, a parcell of peas, 4 juggs, 6 sides of taned [sic] leather, 1 small still, 1/2 bushell, a hammer, a frow, a grubing hoe, 2 old

On the 20 November 1744 the inventory and appraisement of the estate of John Haile, dec'd was returned by John Haile and Mary Haile, his executors and ordered to be recorded" (Essex County Will Book 7, p 229).

In an extensive attempt to prove more information about John's wife Mary, there has been little at this time to verify the claim she was "Mary Fullerton." There appeared to be some circumstantial evidence that the claim was supported by the fact John's name appears with James Fullerton in the aforementioned Simon Cobnall deed in 1706, and that John Haile was part of the probate of James Fullerton's estate. However, an analysis on the two known James Fullerton's from this time period shed different light on that fact (the analysis of the Fullerton's has been brought to light by genealogist Jean Suddarth):

The eldest James Fullerton of (the former) Rappahannock County, Virginia, left a will which was proven on 3 May 1678. In it, he named a daughter Mary Fullerton, who became the wife of Samuel Griffin. This is attested by the following deed (found in Old Rappahannock Co, VA Deeds, Vol 8, 1688-92, p 159) :

*Know all men by these presents that I Samll. Griffin and Mary my Wife of county of Rappa. in Virginia, Ship Wright, for and in consideration of fifteen pounds Sterling already in hand received have sold unto James Fullerton of the aforesd County his heirs Two hundred acres of land being in the aforesaid County it being part of the land formerly belonging to James Fullerton and by the sd Fullertons Will given unto sd Mary Griffin, Daughter of the aforesd Fullerton, which two hundred ares of land I the sd Samll Griffin do bind myself my heirs unto the aforesd James Fullerton Jr. his heirs in the just sum of One hundred pounds Sterling to warrant the sd land from the claim of all manner of persons that may lay any clame and likewise to acknowledge this Deed in Rappa Court with my Wife when ever required by the aforesd Fullerton his heirs To the true performance of the same I bind myself my heirs unto the aforesd Fullerton junr. his heirs and assigns. Samll. (his mark) Griffin
Mary Griffin

Teste James Baughan
Richard Covington
Recognitr in Cur Comt Rappa 4 die Junii 1690

This Mary (Fullerton) Griffin appears to have died prior to the execution of her husband's will in Essex Co, VA, on 12 August 1698 (and probated 10 September 1698), as her name, nor any mention of a wife, is listed in the will (see Essex Co, VA Deed & Will Book, 1695-1699, pp 232-33). Furthermore, the said James Fullerton also named a son of the same name, James Fullerton, who was named executor of the elder James' will. When the elder James died in 1678, his son was not of the legal age (i.e. 21 years), and therefore he was named a co-executor of the will until he reached that age with Thomas Gaines, as follows (referenced from the elder James Fullerton's will of March 1677/78, Old Rappahannock Co, VA Deeds & Wills, 1677-82, pp 83-87):

Eightly I make my well beloved friend, Thomas Gaines, my Executor till my Sonne, James attaine ye age of Sixteene yeares & then I appoint Thomas Gaines & my sonne James, Joynt Executors till my sonne James attaine ye yeares of one & twenty & then I appointe my sonne James, ye sole executor of this my last will and testament.

The younger James Fullerton was still not of the legal age in 1685, when a deed was executed with his co-executor Thomas Gaines, as follows (Old Rappahannock Co, VA Deeds, 1686-88, pp 270-71):

*To all to whom these presents shall come Wee Tho: Gaines and James Fullerton of the county of Rappa: send Greeting in our Lord God everlasting. Now know yee that wee the aforesd Thomas Gaines and James Fullerton for diverse good causes but more especially for the consideration of two thousand pounds of merchantable tobacco and cask and six pounds Sterling to us paid by Stephen Benbridge of the County aforesd. by these presents have sold unto the aforesd Benbridge his heires forever all our right and Estate we have unto a parcell of land lying on the North side of Piscataway Creek being the land James Fullerton Senr. formerly lived on bounding by an Oake Swamp the land of Robert Young, Morris and the Creek To have and to hold the aforesd. parcell of land with all profits and priviledges whatsoever with all woods and waters in as ample manner as any land is held within this Collony engaging ourselves our heires that the sd Benbridge his heires forever to peaceably and quietly use and enjoy every part of the aforesd prcell of land without any hindrance of any persons that shall lay claime thereof and do further engage ourselves to acknowledge this our act and deed in Rappa: County Court to the aforesd. In 1745, Mary Haile of Essex Co, VA, gave a deposition in a court case of James Taylor of King & Queen Co, VA. Given that she attested her age at being 67 years of age, she is most likely the Mary Haile, wife of our John Haile of this generation:

Mary Hail of Essex Co and about 67 years being interrogated no the part of the defendant is she knew James Taylor the Elder and John and Robert Powell his grandsons, answered she did. Being asked which died first, answered she lived very near to Robert Powell father of John and Robert. On Friday she was at Robert Powell's house when a letter came that Mrs. Powell's father James Taylor was very sick and desired to see her. The said children appeared to be well. Mrs. Powell intended to go down on Sunday to see him but that morning her youngest child was taken sick and prevented her. Her son Robert was taken sick about 10 oclok and her son John was taken sick about 2 o'clock the same day. One of the children died that night, another on Monday night and were all buried on Tuesday. The deponent was at their burial and a letter came there, the purport of which this deponent understood was that James Taylor was dead and that Mrs. Powell was desired to go down to this funeral, but this deponent did not read the letter nor does she remember she heard her say James Taylor was dead, only that Mrs. Powell on receipt of the letter cried and said Oh Lord, have I lost my children and my father too. Being asked if she saw Mrs. Mary Stone at the burial of the children, says she does not remember she saw any woman there except Margaret Pruet. The deponent went away from the burial before night, carried the defendant James Powell, who was then a child, home with her to take care of him while Mrs. Powell his mother went down to her father's. At that time Robert Powell had no child living but one sone James. James Taylor and Robert Powell lived about 22 miles distant from each other.

As Mary would have been born in about 1678, she would not be a daughter of the James Fullerton's of Rappahannock/Essex Counties of Virginia. Additional research at this time has failed to produce her maiden name, but a deeper study into the neighboring families of the Hailes could warrant success in identifying this mystery.

FRANCIS HAILE and ADARA MEADOR, of ESSEX & BEDFORD COUNTIES

The details regarding Francis Haile are not too clear at this time, but we know that he spent the first half of his life in Essex County, where his line of the Haile's derived from. Because Francis Hail(e) was not a common name in the Tidewater at that time, we are fairly certain that mentions of the name are that of this Francis. The earliest mention in 1734, when he attended and made a purchase at an estate sale in Essex County, also helps assign an approximate birth year for him, the youngest which would be in 1713.

After his father's will was probated in 1744, Francis probably moved his family from Essex County to Caroline County. We say probably because documentary evidence of his westward migration can only be ascertained by mentions of his name in counties, as opposed to by deeds. Caroline County is a burnt county in Virginia, and little by means of deeds survives there, hence the documented length of the Hail's in Caroline County is unknown. However, his brother John Hail also moved there, as a deed in Essex County shows John selling his land off. A deed to Moses Penn in 1754 was acknowledged by both Francis and Adara Hail in Caroline County. In 1765, Francis was exempted from paying a tithe in Caroline County, probably due to either being old or infirm. It was shortly thereafter that Francis appears in Bedford County, though no deed has been found for his exact arrival there.

Francis' will was written on 5 December 1775 in Bedford County, signing his name with the old spelling of his name "Ffrancis": (Bedford Co, VA Will Book 1, p 371)

"…unto my wife, Adara, all my personal and real estate during her life and after her decease to be equally divided, except two beds, amongst my eight children. Richard, Stephen, Lewis, Elizabeth, Mary, Ruth, Ushely, and Mourning. It is my will and desire that my son Lewis Haile shall have one bed that I made use of for my own lodging. And my daughter, Mary one good or next best bed with the furniture. Note my will is that they shall have and equal sheare [sic] of all besides such as money or whatsoever else as I appoint Stephen Haile and Lewis Haile my whole and sole executors of this my last will and Testament and if my son Richard does not take in his bonds for 75 pounds the other for 8 pounds by paying the money or other Sattiesfaction my above executors is to take the matter and collect and distribute according to this my last will and Testament.
Ffrancis Haile

Witnesses: Jonathan Pratt
George Bowles
Barnabas Arther

This will was probated in Bedford County 28 August 1780, proven by the oaths of George Bowles and Barnabas Arthur. Stephan Haile one of the executors made oath thereto certificate is granted him for obtaining probate. He gave security as did Barnabas Arthur and Jame Ayers in the penalty of 40 Thousand pounds for the faithful administration of the said decedents estate. Liberty being reservd the other Exor, named in said will to join in the probate thereof when he shall think fit.

His estate was inventoried and appraised on 27 September 1780, with it being recorded in Bedford County court on 23 October 1780 (Bedford Co, VA Will Book 1, pp 376-77):

"Inventory of the Estate of Ffrancis Hale, dec'd

To Negro Harry – 4,000 pounds. Nett {neat} cattle, 19 Hogs, a horse, 4 old barrells, 6 water vesals, a slay, 2 falling axes, old iron tools, 2 old chests, a table and 4 chears [sic], one fether [sic] bed and furniture, one bedsted and cord, 2 old spinning wheals, old books, 2 sifters, case of old knives and forks, puter, crockery ware, 2 smoothing irons, one tin quart, pepper box, 2 potts, a skillet. To cash in hand [no total given].

This day we have praised the above articles of Ffrancis Haile's estate, 27 September 1780:
John Chiles Parmenas Haynes James Greer

At a Court held for Bedford County 23 October 1780, the inventory of appaisement of the estate of Ffrancis Haile deceased was returned to Court and ordered to be recorded.
J Steptoe, Clk."

His wife is linked to be that of Adara (or Addra) Meador, daughter of Richard Meador and Anne Moss of Essex County, through a combination of the rarity of her name Adara (which was a family name) as well as an analysis on the relationship between the Hailes, Meadors, and other allied families of the Tidewater region (and their subsequent removal to central Virginia during this time). This family name derives from her great-grandmother, Addra White, grandmother to Adara's father, Richard. More will be published on the Meador's of Essex County in another article. No record proves what happened to Adara Haile after the death of her husband at this time.

There is a mystery in the early Moss family that has puzzled me for years. I hope someone knows the answer.

First, the generally accepted timeline is:
1. Edward Moss 1610-1685 (& Ann Beltchourton)
2. His son Edward Moss 1637-1716 (& Eleanor Westwood)
3. His son Edward Moss ca 1650? -?

Now the mystery:
This is from William & Mary Quarterly. Vol 7, No. 1 pg 24 (dated 1898). It is a note attached to the Armistead family and is quoted often, including the definitive "Moss of Virginia:"
"Edward Moss, "boatwright" an early resident of York Co.,Va., made a gift to his son Edward, in 1657, to the record of which the clerk affixed a drawing appearing to indicate armorial bearings. His wife was Eleanor, who in 1665, gave a calf to her son, Edward Moss, "sonne to Edward Mosse, deceased. This son was a justice in 1687, and made his will in 1716."

Who is the "deceased" Edward? Edward 1 and 2 are both alive in 1665.

Surely someone has questioned this before. I would REALLY appreciate it if someone could explain it!

Yes! I have the answer – The Edward Moss that everyone is assuming was born around 1610 died not die in 1685. He was alive when he gave his son Edward land on May 21, 1657. He was dead by 1665 when his widow Eleanor gave the younger Edward the calf.

The book "Early Virginia Immigrants 1623-1666" by George Greer, 1912, says Edward died in June 1658. I have studied transcripts and abstracts of as many early documents as I can find, but can't verify it, but it's logical.

The question is, where did this 1685 date come from? There is no Edward who died at that time. Did someone just transpose the 5 and the 8 and all the copycats pick it up? I guess it doesn't matter... the real problem is getting it corrected!
